

Frequently Asked Questions

- Can I bring my family?
 - No. Family members are not allowed during the duration of the course.
- Am I authorized to take leave or pass during the course (outside of designated on-post pass)?
 - No
- Can I bring my pets?
 - No
- How much money should I bring?
 - We recommend $1,500 to make all the necessary purchases needed to complete the course. This will cover the cost of uniforms and toiletries purchased during the course. I do not recommend bringing all cash.
- Can I bring my vehicle?
 - Yes. Vehicles may be driven to the course, but will be parked and non-accessible for the duration of the course.
- Should I have a fresh haircut when I report?
 - Yes. Refer to Army Regulation (AR) 670-1 for male and female applicable standards.
- Am I required to shave during the course?
 - Yes. Males will shave in accordance with AR 670-1.
- Can I wear make-up?
 - Yes. Females must wear make-up in accordance with AR 670-1.
- Can my family attend graduation?
 - Yes, upon completion of the course family members are welcome to attend the graduation ceremony. Travel arrangements and lodging will be at their own expense of the family members. We will pass venue information once we lock in the number of attendees.
- What information should I bring with me?
 - Please refer to the welcome letter.
- When and where do I report?

- Please refer to the welcome letter.
- Where will I live?
 - Barracks for Army Medical Direct Commission Course students.
- What will my mailing address be?
 - Use the mailing address below for receiving mail but you must use UPS or FedEx. If you use USPS, it will take longer to arrive because it must go through post, brigade, battalion, and then to the battery.

 - Rank, Student Name
C BTRY, 2-6 ADA AMEDD DCC
2745 Miner Rd.
Fort Sill, OK 73503
- What can I do to prepare for the course?
 - Begin a physical training regimen by referring to the Physical Preparation instructions on the webpage and study the Army rank structure for Soldiers, Non-Commissioned, Warrant Officers, and Commissioned Officers.

 - Arrive with the correct items listed on the Packing List.
- Do I need to do anything if I withdraw from the course or will not be able to attend?
 - If you are no longer in this class or no longer plan to attend this class, immediately notify the organization that scheduled you to attend (recruiter, NG or Reserve unit, or Health Professionals Scholarship Program administration) to have your name removed from the ATRRS list. If you fail to show and you are on the ATRRS list at report date, you will be reported as such. We at AMEDD-DCC cannot remove you from ATRRS.
- How do I get my Orders?
 - Fort Sill and specifically AMEDD-DCC, are not involved with the Orders process. A Welcome letter email to you is not official travel orders. You need to contact your unit S3/S4 or the HPSP management (whichever applies) to receive those. You can try your HRC branch manager; 502-613-6838/ DSN: 983-6838, and be prepared to tell them to which medical branch you belong so they can properly transfer you. If HRC is sending orders they will come via email to your military email, and may be in your Spam folder.
- Do I need a DD Form 1610 (Travel Authorization)?
 - Only if you do not receive Official Orders and have exhausted the means above to obtain Official Orders.

- A DD form 1610 is a Travel Authorization. It states that your chain of command authorizes you to travel on W days, by X conveyance, to Y location, for a duration of Z days. It also has some very important information; one, that it is signed by your chain of command or finance people, and two, it has the reimbursement pot of money code to allow you to get paid upon return.
- You must show up with either DD 1610 or a set of Orders. You do not need both, but you need at least one
- What do I do if my flight or travel plans are delayed?
 - If you have questions before arrival, contact the Instructor of the Day desk at 580-558-5218.
- Do I need a padlock?
 - Yes you need a lock. The rooms do not lock and we do not issue locks for wall lockers. If you bring a padlock and you lose the key...you might be locked out for a while. Combination locks are also authorized.
- What if there is a gap between the AMEDD-DCC graduation date and the BOLC-B start date?
 - If you are going Active Duty and you have leave acquired you may be able to use that. Typically, though, Active Duty Soldiers earn 2.5 days per month, so you won't have enough days leave saved up. The battery Commander may authorize up to 10 days negative leave balance, but that is his choice based on the situation. You cannot just disappear as you are getting paid. You are either accounted for on leave (somewhere) or you are at work (here at Fort Sill) or signed in to Fort Sam Houston.
 - If you are Guard or Reserve Soldier, that gets complicated and we will have to see what your Travel Authorization or Orders say. If they say you are to return home prior to going to Fort Sam Houston that means you stop getting paid for that time away and you don't need the leave. If they don't, then you are staying with us until your report travel time. Fort Sam Houston does not allow for early reporting.
- What documents do I need to bring?
 - See Welcome Letter. If you are already in DEERs, and your family is already in DEERs, then you don't need to bring your documents. But, make sure someone is standing by to mail or email should something go wrong. If you are new to the Army, and want to start Basic Allowance for Housing, and get paid for dependents, and are not already in DEERs (meaning you probably do not have an ID card) then you will need to bring original documents, not certified copies.

- For in-processing C Battery, you will need four copies of your official orders or DD Form 1610, your DA-71/Oath of Office (if you have one, if not we will generate one for you when you sign-in) and your DD-214 (prior-enlisted only, IF you have it)
- What medical records do I need to bring?
 - The medical and dental records required is mainly for prior service that may have a military medical record already established. We will draw blood here to determine your immunization requirements and give you a medical in-processing regardless of your records. We do not need civilian medical records but if you have had the COVID vaccine, you should bring proof of that. If you have your Logistics Health Incorporation (LHI) records, please bring them or have them available on digits. Those records will be uploaded into MEDPROS but only if you supply them.
- My Reserve/National Guard ID card is about to expire; what do I do?
 - We will get you one here.
- Do I need to show anything to get onto the installation?
 - Yes. A government issued ID card (such as a Driver's License or Passport) and your orders.
- Will we be in restriction of movement even if we have had the vaccine?
 - Yes. Currently that will be seven days.
- I am vegetarian; can I get special meals during the restriction of movement period?
 - Maybe. Depending upon the number of students in the class, we may opt for plates rather than Mermite meals (military mass-quantity to-go buffet-style food items), and those can be apportioned as vegetarian. Usually, however, we receive the Mermites and you will have to pick from available choices.
- Can I get a religious exception for special meals?
 - Yes. On the Welcome Letter it has contact information for the Chaplain who can put in a request. Also, our Mermites usually have pork alternatives. For other religious dietary concerns, notify staff upon arrival. Note that the meat served is not certified through ritualistic slaughter by a shochet or similar customs.
- When should I arrive?
 - Please arrange to arrive between 12pm and 6pm. That will include the two hour bus ride from Oklahoma City, and 30 minute ride from Lawton airports.
- What if I arrive after 6pm?

- Contact the IOD desk at 580-558-5218 on day of travel so that appropriate staff will be available to receive you.
- Do I need a laptop/computer?
 - You need some means of accessing the worldwide web in order to view class presentations during ROM. You will also need access to email and ability to read and sign pdf documents.
- Can I bring can soda?
 - Shelf-stable food in sealable containers is OK. You will NOT have access to refrigeration. Protein shakes are fine. So is Tang, Kool-Aid, and other beverage powders. All food must be sealable/contained against ants and other bugs. We do not want a cockroach problem in our barracks. Whatever you bring you will carry and there is no elevator.
- Do I need to bring civilian clothes?
 - IF YOU HAVE BEEN ISSUED, OR YOU POSSESS, MILITARY UNIFORMS (PHYSICAL FITNESS AND/OR COMBAT UNIFORM) YOU WILL WEAR MILITARY CLOTHING AND NOT CIVILIAN CLOTHING WHILE HERE. YOU WILL ONLY WEAR CIVILIAN CLOTHING IF YOU DO NOT POSSESS UNIFORMS UPON ARRIVAL.
 - If, you do not possess uniforms upon arrival, YOU WILL BUY THEM in week two. Bring civilian attire to wear for the first week until we go to Military Clothing Sales. Bring, or be prepared to buy, some means to pack the uniforms you will have to buy (if you do not bring them with you).
- Do I need to have my Army Service Uniform while at DCC?
 - No. We do not require the ASU or other Dress Uniform at DCC. You may be required to have it at BOLC-B, so plan accordingly.
- I am on profile, can I still attend the course?
 - If you have any medical condition or family issue that may prevent you from completing this course, talk to your unit or HPSP to possibly reschedule. This goes for those with possible child births imminent, family member deaths expected, weddings you are to be in, child graduations you need to attend, etc.. You will have plenty of opportunity to miss those type of events in your career. Control what you can, now, while you can.
- Can I bring hot plates or a jet-boil?
 - No.
- Why do I need to bring a cup or bottle for water?
 - We have a touchless water-filtration equipped fountain on each floor of the barracks for your use. We will issue Camelbacks later in the course for use during training. We do not have vending machines, bottled water, or juice boxes available, with the exception of juice and milk at breakfast and dinner. You will drink water from this fountain and you may bring beverage powders to flavor it.

- My recruiter gave me a PT shirt with their logo on it. Can I wear that for PT?
 - If your recruiter or HPSP gave you a shirt to wear for drill weekends or whatever, those are not authorized here. Those are unit morale shirts. As such, our Cadre wear Chaos Battery unit morale shirts, but we do not wear those while TDY to other locations. You, therefore, cannot wear recruiter issued PT gear, that is not official Army PFU while here. The only exception is those personnel who arrive without official Army PT gear, and they may wear those type shirts or clothing for PT until we take you to Military Clothing sales.

- Do I need to sew on my rank prior to arrival?
 - No. But you will wear your rank while here. If you sew on your rank you will also sew on the name strips. Sewn on rank and name tapes do not get lost in the laundry and on the ranges.
